Honorable H. Alexander Smith

Dear Alex:

Thank you very much for your letter of 14 September concerning [redacted]

At the time our Personnel people were exploring the possibilities of employment for him, they took into consideration the knowledge and experience that he acquired while he was in Northern Europe. Unfortunately, we have been unable to find a position for him here and I do not know of any requirement coming up which would be of interest to a man of his training and status.

In regard to your inquiry about USIA, it may be that they would have a specific need for a man with his particular attainments and I might suggest that he get in touch with them.

With every best wish.

Sincerely,

SIGNED

I understood when I talked to you that you expressed the opinion you might talk to [Redacted] personally because of his background, etc. It occurred to me that his years of experience in the Scandinavian countries and his knowledge of so many languages might make it possible for you to have a little chat with him.

Looking forward to seeing you soon and with kindest personal regards, I am

Always cordially yours,
